CLASS HISTORY

It was back in '28 that our little rowboat put out upon the Sea of Knowledge. And we had a rowboat full too; in fact we had two rowboats and two captains. They were Miss Teal and Miss Beckner. Miss Teal had a crew of twenty-eight and Miss Beckner had a crew of thirteen. Some of the original members of our crew are still with us but a good many have mutinied—no, but have been forced by circumstances to be transferred to other ships, or give up their papers entirely. However, we still have fourteen of our original crew with us. They are: LaMar Archer, Jean Bash, Genevieve Doll, Fred Eversole, Mary Gentzhorn, Orpha Heffner, James Maxwell, Lowell Moore, Zelma Paulus, Victor Rader, Merl Stanley, Eleanor Secor, Evelyn Stickel and Dayton Wenger. Some others who were of the original crew and missed only several years or so were: Alice Phillips Ruth Bickel, Ned Warner and Lowell Paulus. We had comparatively smooth sailing until we reached that important day when we were given our Ship of State and passed out on to a larger Sea of Knowledge.

That important day was May 9, 1936. Then we were each given an important looking paper and placed under an entirely new command. There were forty of us who received these papers. Some of our new officers were Commander of the Fleet, Holben; and under officers, Clyde Motts, Alta Housour, Arthur Knepp, and Wilma Abell. Our own captain and first mate were Charles Murphey and Genevieve Doll. That year Bud Rieck kept Ship's log. All in all, we had smooth sailing until we took shore leave.

The next year our captain was changed to Mary Jean Gentzhorn because of the oss of former captain, Charles Murphy. First mate was changed to Betty June O'Bryant. Our crew was lessened considerably this year for we lost seventeen students. But to make up for this we gained Betty June O'Bryant from Mishawaka H. S.

The name of our ship this year was the "Sophomore" and we were very proud of it. We were changeable enough, for altogether our ship had four names, the former being the "Freshman."

The name of our ship wasn't the only thing we were undecided about. The next year our new captain was James Nicholson, a student we welcomed from Mishawaka. We also gained several other new members of our crew but to offset our gains we lost seven valuable members, among them were Ruth Sanderson, Eugene Weaver and Betty Vernon.

This year we gave a drama aboard ship, entitled, "Simple Simon Simple" and entertained with a banquet those who were being promoted in the near future to a fleet on the great Ocean of Life. Our theme was "Sailing" and the colors used were their colors, blue and silver with their flowers, the sweet pea.

Also in November we received our rings of honor so all may know we sailed the Sea of Knowledge as a member of the fleet of Jamestown H. S.

This brings us to the last chapter in our ship's log. Again we changed our captain, this time to Betty June O'Bryant, and the name of our ship to "The Senior."

We selected our colors and flower, maroon and white with roses. Our shipboard drama this year is a comedy entitled "Hillbilly Courtship."

We lost five valuable members of our crew even at this late date. They were: Ruby Freel, Lucille Selnar, Robert Wilson, Richard Grant and James Nicholson. That leaves twenty-eight of us who are getting ready for the two banquets to be given in our honor and the Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises. At the Commencement exercises we will be given our cherished paper the "Equitorial Rex."

We are thinking of some token of appreciation to be left behind us and are working on this annual to express that appreciation to all our commanding officers and shipmates. Even now our little vessel, conducted by the rest of the fleet, is drawing nearer to the great canal whose locks will lift us across to the Ocean of Life.

CLASS WILL

We, the April Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty in passing away forever our lives in J. H. S., broken in body and spirit, hope that our decaying remains will be buried with due respect and dignity along the peaceful Baugo Creek.

To Mr. Holden the Senior Class leaves all desks upon which we have have inscribed our deepest thoughts.

To Mr. Sheets we will a better physics class next year.

To Mr. Motts we leave the Freshman class of next year to sponsor.

To Miss Beatty we leave some Home Economics girls for the cafeteria.

To Mr. McIntosh we leave a new staff for next year.

To Mr. Knepp we leave some students who keep up with work in mechanical drawing.

To Mrs. Anglemyer we leave the Senior play to direct next year.

To the Junior Class we leave our dignity and also our place as Seniors.

To the Sophomores we leave something of which has little value and of which we can get along without.

To the Freshmen we bestow our unsurpassable knowledge and our ability to "grow up."

I, LaMar Archer, will my shortness to Charles Wernicke.

I, Jean Ellen Bash, will my cheer leading to Donald Kirby.

I, Ruth Bickel, will my pigeon toeness to Arloene Deak.

I, Helen Dils, will my ambition of being an undertaker to Jack Hens

I, Genevieve Doll, will my excellent grades to Martha Christofeno.

I, Fred Eversole, will my Freshman girl friends to Norman Holycross.

I, Mary Gentzhorn, will my curly hair to Russell Ruple.

I, Orpha Heffner, will my bookkeeping ability to Doris Burket.

I, Junior Henderson, will my ping pong ability to William Rouch.

I, James Maxwell, will my quietness to Katherine Knight.

I, Lowell Moore, will my Sophomore girl friend to Chelsie Brothers

I, John Neely, will my ambition to travel to William DeFord.

I, Betty O'Bryant, will my ability to be class president to Donald Robinson.

I, Alberta Olson, will my red hair to Thelma O'Bryant.

I, Lowell Paulus, will my ability to get Physics to Ernest Richards.

I, Zelma Paulus, will my ability to make basketball posters to Virginia Garl.

I, Alice Phillips, will my girlish figure to Lois Kilmer.

I, Victor Rader, will my fatness to James Thole.

I, Louise Rickard, will my ability to tease Mr. Sheets to Assunta Lese.

I, Edward Rieck, will my basketball ability to Warner VanKuren.

I, Eleanor Secor, will my slenderness to Marjorie Mitchell.
